

Discuss both the views and give your opinion.

Some people argue that more and more immigration to a country destroys the cultural and traditional values of it. While others believe that immigration actually enhances the quality of life in the host nation. Discuss both the sides and give your opinion.

Discuss both the views:

In this contemporary world, Immigration which is on the rise is an essential element to each and every developing and developed nation. Few people criticize that increased immigration to a country disrupts its traditional and cultural values. In contrast, others postulate that it is essential in enhancing the lifestyle of the host nation. These contentious topics have been profoundly debated in several forums. I will discuss both the views meticulously and give my opinion from a bird's-eye stance.

Para 1:

Throwing light on the first view, some people argue that a country suffers a lot due to mass immigration because its conventional values get deprived imminently. Indigenous people, who have their own customs and tradition, are forced to adopt a global culture instead. Moreover, they feel that the immigrants do not value the existing culture as they tend to follow their customary practices which they adopted in their homeland. To illustrate according to a recent survey by WHO, countries which allow massive immigration face a lot of social and security concerns than their counterparts.

Para 2 :

CONCLUSION:

To conclude, I strongly opine that immigration in great numbers will definitely be an intemperate prominence in various sectors of the host nation although it has some pessimistic impacts on its culture.
